

Rob. Stevenson

21 Oct. 1782

L. J.
Mr. Dinwiddie
at Post Office Court
Dublin

Dr Sir

Newry Dec<sup>r</sup> 21st 1782

I take the liberty to request the Favour of you that if you have an opportunity to recommend the bearer Mr. Livingston, a Writing Master that you will be so kind as to render him your Friendship. He resides here for some time and goes to Dublin in hopes to better by his Profession he has great Merit as a Teacher and his Character is impeachable.

I send you by the bearer Mr. Walker's Syllabus and another of his Productions which I meant to have left with you upon my return from London, but you were then at Waterford. I was in Dublin since that but staid only one day, I call'd to see you and you were gone to the Country I you'll please to take care of these in case I should have occasions for them again.

Mr. Stevenson desires her Respectful Compts. to you and Mr. Radcliffe with the same from D. Sir
Yours Obedient Servant
Rob. Stevenson