

Sept. 1792

William Macintosh Esq

Sir

My Nephew will hand you the bill which I hope you will find correct, I shall however compare it with the Defunct bills and accounts at my leisure. If there be any error it must be owing to some article omitted, as all that are charged are right both in quantity and price - I will make out the shop price of every article afterwards - The greatest part of the last hundred pounds is still to pay and the workmen are somewhat impatient. I am Sir your most Obedt Servt
J. Pinewdie

A. S. Will you pardon me in again
