tion of a post-war agreement, the war had left its mark upon the Canadian economy and upon the social philosophy of Canadians. This conference reached an impasse, and was adjourned sine die, on May 3, 1946.

New proposals were presented to individual provinces in the Budget Speech of the Minister of Finance on June 27, 1946. Here Mr. Eggleston's account, which is a sort of interim report on Dominion-Provincial relations, ends. He declares that he "has become convinced that a solution can be found between the conflicting demands of modern nationhood and the advantages of federalism". Yet he offers no solution for the difficulty. In other words, in The Road to Nationhood, he presents no plan for the improvement or completion of the road now in use, or for the construction of a better one.

Since June, 1946, efforts have been made with a view to completing agreements between the Dominion Government and the provinces severally rather than collectively, although a number of observers have declared that general conferences are the only place in which to discuss these matters.

Station - to - Station Long Distance Calls

It's cheaper and faster to use Station-to-Station Service on your Long Distance Telephone calls. A Station-to-Station Call is one where you ask for a telephone number, and not for a particular person.

The saving through using this class of service amounts to as much as thirty per cent on calls during the day. On calls after six p.m. the average saving is larger still. Besides, your call goes through much more quickly—usually while you hold the line.

Save yourself money and get quicker service by using Station-to-Station Service whenever possible. Remember it especially on Sundays, as Night Rates are effective all day then and your saving is still greater.
