

OUR CONTRIBUTORS

DR. H. L. STEWART, some time Professor of Philosophy at Dalhousie University and well known author and radio commentator. * * *

DR. V. L. O. CHITTICK, of Seattle, Washington, U.S.A., eminent in the field of literature and recognized as an outstanding authority on the works of Thomas Chandler Haliburton. * * * THE REVEREND K. M. HAMILTON, M.A., B.D. of Elmsdale, Nova Scotia, frequent contributor to The Dalhousie Review and other journals in the realm of literature and scholarship. * * *

MICHAEL HAMBURGER, of London, England; lecturer in German, University College, London; one of the editors of P.E.N. Anthology of new poems and contributing literary critic of The Times Literary Supplement, The New Statesman World Review and other periodicals; author and editor of Poems of Holderlin (translations, with long critical introduction). * * *

W. H. G. ARMYTAGE, of Sheffield, England; frequent contributor on historical topics to The Dalhousie Review and other quarterlies in Canada, the United States and the United Kingdom. * * *

ROBERT FRANCIS, of Amherst, Massachusetts; well known author and former contributor to The Dalhousie Review (essay on Thoreau). * * *

PROFESSOR PETER VIREECK, of Massachusetts; winner of the Pulitzer Prize for Poetry in the United States in 1949; author of Conservatism Re-visited and other well known works; contributor to numerous learned journals in the United States, Canada and the United Kingdom. * * *

ANTHONY HARRIGAN, of London, England; contributor to The Contemporary Review, The American Historical Review, Christian Century and other well known scholarly periodicals. * * *

GRACE HELEN MOWAT, of St. Andrews, New Brunswick, well known for her writing and research in the field of Maritime and Canadian history. * * *