

The Dalhousie Review

A Canadian Quarterly of Literature and Opinion

JAMES DE MILLE AND ARCHIBALD MACMECHAN
A. R. BEVAN

A VIEW OF CANADIAN CRITICISM	George Woodcock
The Old Harbor—A Poem	Frances R. Angus
A MURDERING PRACTISE	Mary Forster Martin
After All, A Man Is Still A Man—A Story	William C. Sayres
No Ivory in Light Towers	E. M. Richardson
University Studies and the Conduct of Life	Eduard Spranger
Daguerreotypists and Portrait Takers in Saint John	J. Russell Harper
Engineers and the Massey Report	Robert Legget
OUR CONTRIBUTORS	NEW BOOKS

35
Volume 36

AUTUMN 1955

Number 3