

OUR CONTRIBUTORS

DR. THOMAS H. RADDALL, of Liverpool, Nova Scotia; author of Pied Piper of Dipper Creek, His Majesty's Yankees, Roger Sudden, and other well-known novels and collections of short stories; winner of the Governor General's Award for Canadian literature, 1943 and 1949; President, Queen's County Historical Society and Fellow of the Haliburton Society, King's College, Halifax; Dr. Raddall was born at Hythe, Kent, England. * * * NORA MURRAY, First Soviet War Bride in the United Kingdom; graduate of Moscow University; author of I Spied for Stalin; commentator on the BBC and frequent contributor to contemporary English periodicals. * * * DR. RICHARD A. PRESTON, graduate of Leeds University and Yale University and presently Professor of History, Royal Military College, Kingston, Ontario; author of many historical articles and articles on military education in the American Historical Review, British Army Quarterly, and other journals; Editor of the Canadian Historical Association Annual Report from 1947-1952. * * * DR. DANNIE ABSE, born in South Wales, 1923; author of After Every Green Thing, published by Hutchinson, 1949, and Walking Under Water, to be published also by Hutchinson this Autumn; author of two plays, Five in Heaven and Hands Around the Wall, produced in London in 1949 and 1950; presently engaged in the practice of medicine in London, England. * * * JOHN PETER, graduate of the University of South Africa and Cambridge University, England; Associate Professor of English at the University of Manitoba; his recent publications include A New Interpretation of the Waste Land in Essays in Criticism. * * * DR. GERHARD R. LOMER, for many years Librarian of McGill University and Director of the McGill Library School; Honorary President of the Quebec Library Association, contributor of numerous articles in leading scholarly periodicals in Canada, the United States and the United Kingdom. * * * CHARLES BRUCE, General Superintendent of Canadian Press, Toronto; born at Port Shoreham, Guysborough County, Nova Scotia; graduate of Mount Allison University, 1927 (D. Lit. 1952); winner of the Governor General's Award for Poetry, 1951, with The Mulgrave Road, a collection of pieces reflecting the atmosphere and landscape of Eastern Nova Scotia and the character of its people; began his newspaper career with The Halifax Chronicle in 1927 and before assuming his present post served two years as London Bureau Chief of Canadian Press; Mr. Bruce is author of a novel The Channel Shore to be published by Macmillans in 1952. * * * D. H. FERRIS of Los Angeles, California, a ninth generation Anglo-Celtic American with deep interests in British Constitutional History; contributor to the Presbyterian Tribune, the London Times, Washington Post, Chicago Tribune and the Los Angeles Times; presently engaged in a research study of Jefferson's Precedents. * * * RALPH GUSTAFSON, graduate of Bishop's University, Lennoxville, Quebec, and Oxford University; author of Light Into Darkness, a volume of poems, and a forthcoming book of short stories entitled The Paper Spike and other Stories; editor of The Penguin Anthology of Canadian Poetry and Canadian Accent; Mr. Gustafson's poems and prose have appeared in numerous anthologies and in leading Canadian and American periodicals. * * * DR. MALCOLM C. FOSTER, born in West Torbrooke, Annapolis County, Nova Scotia; for many years Professor of Mathematics, Wesleyan University; graduate of Acadia University and Yale University and author of numerous books and articles on mathematical theory; Dr. Foster died April 9, 1952. * * * DR. F. FRASER BOND, a Haligonian by birth and a Canadian citizen, who has had an outstanding career as a journalist in New York for the past thirty years; he left the editorial staff of The New York Times to become Professor of journalism at Columbia and is presently Professor of Journalism at New York University; awarded an Honorary LL.D. by Mount Allison University; author of numerous books, articles and stories and contributor to both general and scholarly periodicals. * * * DAVID EARLE LEWIS, graduate of Acadia University and frequent contributor to The Dalhousie Review, Psychology Digest, Culture and other periodicals; at present teaching school in Bridgetown, Nova Scotia; President, Annapolis Valley Music Festival.