Editors Desk

Owing to financial restrictions the Bulletin has been forced to restrict its publication expense and hence size. Accordingly, the Manitoba Issue was divided into two issues, March and June. As a result the Maritime Issue will occur for the September Bulletin.

Architectural publications do not fare well in Canada and this reality is evidenced by the difficulties currently facing Section A edited by Odile Henault. Ms. Henault has recently appealed to all RAIC members to support the magazine by subscription. This tabloid size bi-monthly is without question a worthwhile forum for the examination of Canadian architecture and its demise would be a loss to the architectural community.

The SSAC relies to a significant extent on its members for the funding of its operations and all readers are encouraged to renew their memberships and to recruit new members for the Society. News from the Annual Meeting to be held in Winnipeg 29 May to 1 June 1986 will be presented in the next Bulletin.
