IN MEMORIAM

Remembering Michael Baird - Faculty of Management, Friday, March 6

Dalhousie friends, colleagues and students will remember with great sadness the passing of Michael Baird on November 17 last year. Michael was a member of the School of Business and Faculty of Management family for more than six years and will be remembered for his dedication to students and his genuine enthusiasm for the development of our programs. In particular he will be remembered for his contributions to the design of the Bachelor of Management over the years. As many colleagues will also be aware, Michael received his doctorate from Queen's University in October.

Michael will also be remembered for the tenacious way he dealt with his illness, surviving four years after his initial diagnosis. In her message to us at the time of his passing, his wife Julie Lalande noted that Michael's fight "positively changed the way how glioblastoma patients are treated, both medically and attitudinally, in the Maritimes". So we may hope that others will benefit from Michael's tenacity when they are faced with similar aggressive conditions in the future.

And so we are pleased now to announce that a celebration of Michael Baird's life and work will take place on Friday, March 6, 12 noon - 2 p.m. in the Faculty of Management.

All friends, colleagues and students of Michael Baird are invited to attend the event which will be hosted by Julie Lalande and Dean David Wheeler.
