

of the Ordinance his Grace was pleased to give a very favourable answer in regard to the plan proposed, but to signify at the same time that no part of the time and attention of the Gentlemen Cadets could be spared from the necessary business of the Academy, but that the ancient war might be an object of private study. - It is on this foundation that I presume to trouble you with the inclosed. - You will please observe that to accommodate the Gentlemen Cadets the Lectures are fixed for Saturday and Monday the 29th and 31st January -

London
24 January
1798

I am Sir
Your most O^bl^t Serv^t

J. W. Pennington