PHAROS

...at the mouth of the harbour, majestically, there stood the PHAROS, towering its lofty head above the city of Alexandria, a beacon of warning and succor to the merchants and scientists, men of letters, scholars and statesmen who braved the wrath of the wind and the waters in search of life.

May this PHAROS be a symbolic beacon of our College by the Sea. Let the light of Dalhousie guide you wherever you may sail on the Sea of Life.

DR. HENRY D. HICKS
PRESIDENT OF DALHOUSIE UNIVERSITY

DALHOUSIE UNIVERSITY
HALIFAX, N.S.

PRESIDENT AND VICE-CHANCELLOR

March 2, 1967

TO THE CLASS OF 1967:

The Editor of Pharos has given me this opportunity, as President of the University, to greet you on behalf of the Board of Governors and the Faculty.

It will be especially easy for you to recall the year of your graduation, coming as it does on the hundredth anniversary of the birth of our nation. Much has happened to Dalhousie in those one hundred years.

In the spring of 1867 the Very Reverend Principal James Ross, five professors and a "tutor" looked with pride on their nine graduates. There were twenty-three undergraduates besides and another thirty-three students taking courses part-time in the building where City Hall now stands. The year before, when the first graduates of Dalhousie received their degrees, the University had operated on a budget of just under $5,000 (with a deficit of $34.04!). It is significant for us today, with the formal opening of our new Medical Building this summer, that the Hon. Charles Tupper, M.D., then Provincial Secretary, was a member of the Board of Governors. The Hon. Joseph Howe was another Governor.

It is a temptation to me to compare our size and budget today with that of one hundred years ago but I should not clutter up this letter of greeting with further statistics. Suffice to say our budget in 1967 is about two thousand times our budget of one hundred years ago!

Let me close this letter by expressing the hope that you will find that your experience at Dalhousie has prepared you well for the career you are planning. I also venture to hope that you will be proud of the fact that you are a Dalhousian. Finally, we look forward to you wanting to come back to visit your Alma Mater after you have become established in the world. We shall always be pleased to see you.

Yours very sincerely,

Henry D. Hicks

WHAT WAS DALHOUSIE LIKE

In this centennial year of 1967, Canadians are looking back and reviewing their progress as a nation in the last hundred years. Dalhousieans, in keeping with this spirit, now turn back for a glimpse of our university as it was in 1867.

Though originally founded as Dalhousie College in 1818 this university did not become a degree granting institution until 1863. At this time, by act of legislature Dalhousie College was reorganized. Henceforth, representation on the Board of Governors would be granted to "any body of Christians which should provide an income of twelve hundred dollars per annum in support of a chair in the new institution." This, it was hoped, would produce a strong, well-endowed, non-denominative university. Consequently, in 1863 a new Board of Governors was incorporated, with three chairs being endowed by the Presbyterian Church.

Meet of the Tandem Club on the Grand Parade in Front of the Old

IN 1867?

Rev. James Ross, D.D.
Second President. 1865-1885.

The Chairman of the Board in 1867 was William Young, Chief Justice of Nova Scotia, and its members included Charles Tupper and Joseph Howe.

The first work of the new Board of Governors was to assemble a competent teaching staff. They succeeded admirably in this regard, attracting to Halifax some of the leading men of letters in the country. There were only six professors and they were headed by the Very Rev. Principal James Ross, D.D.

Students at Dalhousie could proceed to a B.A. and with suitable research and thesis to an M.A. The B.A. program was either three or four years in duration, depending on the student's background. Entrance exams were written for admission into the university, whether at the first or second year level. The academic year was divided into two sessions, the Winter Session lasting from October 24 to April 24 and the Summer Session from April 29 to June 24.

What did a B.A. consist of in 1867? The following is an outline taken from the calendar of that year.

WINTER SESSION:

First Year:

Classics, Mathematics, Rhetoric

College.

Second Year:

Classics, Mathematics, Logic, Psychology

Third Year:

Classics, Metaphysics, Modern Languages, Philosophy, Chemistry, Mathematics

Fourth Year:

Ethics, Political Economy, History, Modern Languages, Philosophy, Classics or Mathematics

SUMMER SESSION:

Classes were opened for instruction in most subjects. However, failure in more than two subjects meant loss of the year.

Tuition for the first to fourth years respectively was $20, $24, $12 and $6. Scholarship aid was not freely given, with three awards of four years free tuition being offered for competition in each of Pictou Academy, Yarmouth Academy, and the Halifax Schools.

Enrollment at Dalhousie in 1867 reached a grand total of 64: 9 in fourth year, 5 in third year, 7 in the second, and 11 in the first, with the remainder being "General Students", taking courses in subjects of their own choice without being eligible for a degree.

Finally, it should be noted that 1867 marks the establishment of two of the most important departments of Dalhousie University. Through negotiations started in that year between the university and the Medical Society, the Faculty of Medicine was eventually established, with the first lecture being given in 1868.

The University Library also received its start in 1867. At Spring Convocation, Rev. G. M. Grant of the Board of Governors made a strong plea for a library and started a subscription list for the purpose of raising funds, marked by his own $200 donation and the $400 gift of the Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia.

How much things have changed at Dalhousie since 1867 is obvious. Far greater changes are occurring now as we look forward to the next century of confederation it is plain that Dalhousie University will surge forward at an even more astounding rate.

Sir William Young, Kt.
Chairman of the Board of Governors. 1848-1885.

IN DEDICATION TO DR. AND MRS. I. W. KILLAM

DR. I. W. KILLAM

We, the staff of Pharos deem it a privilege to dedicate this volume to the memory of Dalhousie's greatest benefactors, Dr. and Mrs. Izaak Walton Killam. Termed by Dr. H. E. Read as "one of the most philanthropic wills ever probated in Canada", the Killams bequeathed ten millions to our university.

The bequest was made from the inheritance left to Dorothy Killam by her late husband who died in August of 1955. "Izaak Killam, born in Yarmouth in 1885, educated at the Acacia Villa School in his native town, began his business life in the Union Bank in Halifax and from there he passed into the field of investment banking. Although best known as President of the Royal Securities Corporation and of various power companies, Nova Scotians ought perhaps to be most grateful for the work he did in establishing the Mersey Paper Company at Liverpool, one of the leading industries in this province." In conferring upon Mr. Killam the degree of Doctor of Laws, honoris causa, in May 1946, Pres. Dr. Kerr stated "that he was a man who had displayed the same courage and skill as was shown by his ancestors in the previous century".

Mrs. D. Killam, a native of St. Louis, Missouri, died in August 1965. Large bequests were also made for the establishment of a new Children's Hospital in Halifax, to the Montreal Neurological Institute, to the Canada Council, and to the Universities of Alberta and British Columbia. The Izaak Walton Killam Memorial Scholarships for advanced studies was set up with a fund of seven million-two hundred thousand dollars.

Present and future generations of Dalhousie students owe him a debt which they can never repay. Although the Killam's have passed away the effects of their "magnificent gifts" will be reflected in many of the future graduates of this university. As the New York Times put it:

"THEY DON'T MAKE THEM LIKE THE KILLAMS ANYMORE"

DALHOUSIE UNIVERSITY

THE IZAAK WALTON KILLAM MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIPS

Shortly before her death in midsummer, 1965, Mrs. Dorothy J. Killam set aside a substantial portion of her estate for the purpose of founding The Izaak Walton Killam Fund for Advanced Studies at Dalhousie University. Her purpose in so doing was not only to establish a perpetual memorial in his native province to her late husband, Izaak Walton Killam, industrialist and financier, but also "to help in the building of Canada's future by encouraging advanced study". At the same time, it was her hope that she might thereby in some measure "develop and expand the work of Canadian universities, and promote sympathetic understanding between Canadians and the people of other countries".

It is in accordance with Mrs. Killam's wishes that Dalhousie University now offers the first of the Izaak Walton Killam Memorial Scholarships. Approximately thirty Killam Scholars, in all fields of graduate research at Dalhousie, will be selected for 1967-68.

The scholarships, which may be renewed annually upon evidence of satisfactory completion of work leading towards the Master's or Doctoral degree, range in value from $3,000 to $5,000. No remission of fees accompanies the scholarships, but additional funds to cover transportation to Halifax will be supplied. Killam Scholars will not be required to perform instructing or demonstrating duties.

Those chosen as Killam Scholars by the trustees will be selected on the basis of their likelihood "to contribute to the advancement of learning or to win distinction in a profession"; a Killam Scholar, however, "should not be a one-sided person and each scholar's special distinction of intellect should be founded upon sound character and good manners". Killam Scholarships are open both to Canadians and non-Canadians.

sometimes it gets to be a drag

i see people full of energy always doing things doing things makes me feel more a part of this place

i have time to think here time to try to discover who i am and i can express my opinions with others who are also grasping for a means of fulfillment

i want people to know that i'm a person more than something that walks, talks and breathes recognition for being a person is beautiful

but what about education the almighty degree the courses i have to take because someone says so sometimes i want to leave i get fed up

but here i know i have the chance to grow, to develop nothing in life is easy . . .
so i fight it

even if i lose myself in the crowds i know i can find myself again and when i do i'll be a better person wonder what i'll remember

'bout this place in years to come studying, parties, the college "rag" being angry depressed

The C.U.S. Conference — A comedy of Errors. In early Sept. here at Dal., the national representatives of C.U.S. put their heads together — and came up with a rock garden. The prevailing atmosphere was one of a national conference of morticians. This atmosphere proved ominous as Memorial's Murphy of Newfyland stated that cost did not equal benefit. Imagine! This event proved to be the most exciting of the entire Congress. Once again Joey's boys stole the spotlight. Negative results came from the usual topical problems of housing, tuition, and scholarships. But believe it or not, nothing noteworthy was accomplished. In spite of this the new president said he was very optimistic about the future of the organization for the coming year. "But then again . . ." Look! See! A new board of bores!

As the leaves come off the trees, and the rain begins to fall, many students find that initiation gave a false impression of constant good times. As life settles into a daily grind of classes, papers, and study, the library provides a welcome haven from the blustery winds outside and the windbags in the classroom. Every student requires some rest, and each relaxes in his or her own way. For some, relaxation means lounging around the residence, perhaps waiting for that all-important phone call. Some, working on the assumption that a change is as good as a rest, simply find something else to work at. Some, so tired by the gruelling grind of classes, (and the cheering at the football games, the parties, and the late nights) can find just enough energy to sit upright, gaining strength for the next big binge. Fall Festival Weekend.

Somehow, at this time of year, with exams so far in the future, studies seem by far the least important of our activities. But we must keep at it, for we know full well that when exams do arrive, we cannot possibly be ready. Perhaps by graduation, we will have learned to work at the important things, and still enjoy ourselves. Maybe that's why we're here.

Like big game hunters, Bagg and MacInnis pose with their trophies. "You can fool some of the people some of the time, but you can fool Acadia all the time." After hours of planning, this prediction came true, as the above box of garbage was traded for the four T.V. sets displayed below. As a final gesture of superiority, Bagg persuaded Acadia to sign for that box of nothing. Fleetwood's reputation on the Acadia campus will never be the same. Ours, not good at best, has worsened to the point where we can be proud of going to Dalhousie, the place where apathy no longer has a foothold.

The inhabitants of the Dalhousie campus were awakened early on Saturday morning by the sound of racing motors. Faculty against faculty, with many helping hands to upright the accidents, the race was on.

Some participants, hoping to have a ringside seat for the afternoon parade, stayed aboard their tiny steeds and passed the time with the paper. At about one, the pretty girls came around the corner, and the Dalhousie supporters came out in force to back their team. In mass, and keyed up to resist the Acadia attempt at retaliation for the T.V. scandal, Dalhousie marched.

The fired-up Football Tigers, cheered by the huge crowd, came on to the field and played football as it should be played. The game was fast and rough, with both sides capitalizing on the other's mistakes. The final score was a tie, 14-14, but even that was disputed. We claimed, and still do, that the score was 19-14. However, since we must accept the ruling, we can only hope that the students of future years will remember what our traditionally bad team CAN do when really supported!

DALHOUSIE students who have been on campus the past few years will remember Bill Stanish as a modest, unassuming, keen competitor — a worthy representative of this university in football and hockey. He has been the winner of the Football Rookie - of - the - Year Trophy, the Football Most Inspirational Player Trophy, and the top athletic award of Dalhousie University, "The Climo Award".

Bill Stanish has been Captain of the Dal Tigers Football Team — elected by his teammates. He has been a spark with the Hockey Tigers this year. But Stanish has excelled in other areas as well. His professors will attest to his high level of scholarship.

I have been privileged as Athletic Director to know Bill Stanish — gentleman, scholar, leader, and sportsman — since his first day as a Dalhousie student. His contribution to his college has been outstanding. It is fitting that this special page is included in this year's Pharos.

MARITIME RUGBY CHAMPS ... LAST YEAR!

THIS year, not so good. There were a few wins, and many losses. Despite the effort put forward by the team members, they are fighting great odds. Rugby is not considered a Varsity sport, and as such is always left until last by the students and the staff of the University. Rugby is an interesting and demanding game, and our team could do much better if supporters realized this. Our thanks go out to Professor John Farley, who has coached the team on a voluntary basis, and to those members of the team who have worked hard, and enjoyed their work. We, the graduates of this year, hope that future frosh will be encouraged to support our team in this as well as other sports.

Richard II

In mid-September, Professor Lawrence, of the Drama Workshop, smiled, took his prompt book in hand, and began to cast the various parts of Richard II, by none other than William Shakespeare. Between this casting and the final performance, which was seen by over 2500 high school students, were six weeks of very intensive rehearsals. The work of the actors, designers, and the many willing hands who executed the designs was worth it, as the cast, crew, and audience enjoyed the whole production.

DGDS presents "THE LESSON"

A group of us were sitting around the D.G.D.S. office on a sunny day in September when a letter was delivered from the Nova Scotia Drama League, inviting our participation in their up-coming festival in Dartmouth. Terry DeWolf, who was present at the time, mentioned that he would like to play a part, and Chris Brookes, who was fortunately on his way through the hall to the canteen, was pegged as director. In the space of fifteen minutes, the play was cast, and plans were made for rehearsal. From this rather impromptu beginning, a great deal of serious work developed, until the play was ready for production.

In the Festival, the work payed off. Terry DeWolf received the award for best actor, Eleanor Pushie the award for best supporting actress, and the play received honorable mention for best direction and best over-all production.

Following this success, the play was presented at Dalhousie, in Room 234 of the A & A Building. For a mere quarter of a dollar, the audience went away completely puzzled by the play and the production method. Chris had become a good director.

IN early November, Don Stevens gave other students a chance to explore the unknown with him. Going down into the earth is almost like climbing a mountain—you feel so insignificant! The quiet, the rocks, and yes, the BATS combine to produce an atmosphere where suddenly the selfish feelings are no longer important. Every student should, sometime, go into such a cave, and learn more of the worlds around him and within himself.

In the fall of 1968, the new section will be opened, and 180 more girls will be able to get a single room. The way this new section is designed, it will be more pleasant to live here than in a hotel—wall to wall carpets, kitchenettes, laundry rooms, and lounges. the girls were not alone . . .

This year, the administration seems to have declared a war on study and sleep, and the girls were obviously not the only innocent victims. The extension to the Men's Residence has also been making itself very obvious, particularly in a high wind, when the plastic flaps and bangs with a great deal of joy. We have persevered and trust that future generations of students will mourn with us the loss of so many hours of sleep, and be thankful that we made the sacrifice so that they might live in greater comfort, or at least in greater numbers.

The building robbed so much of our sleep and study time, and the girls were also being attacked by the very building they lived in. We had to get together, to share our grief and vent our frustrations. We have persevered, and trust that the present generation of students will mourn with me the loss of this built-in excuse for not studying, and not staying in to sleep. Future generations of students will have to improvise their own excuses, and we, who were so lucky, wish you all the best.

Halifax Ladies' League, Dal wins, with six victories and one loss.

Dal places third, behind U.N.B. and Memorial.

THE PHOTOGRAPHY DEPARTMENT . . .

TOOK MORE PICTURES THAN EVER . . .

If you go down in the misty basement of the Arts Annex and pass through a winding corridor with pipes and drains everywhere along the floor, you will eventually come to the haven of that long haired, bearded, sneakerclad group known as the Dal Fototogs.

This secretive and somewhat exotic place is the source of all photographs (good and bad), (hopefully) for Dalhousie Student Union publicity and publications. This year the photogs turned out more pictures than ever. They covered "almost" all the activities of the campus.

dalhousie skiing

Two members of this year's ski team were chosen to represent the Maritimes at the national ski championships in Banff, Alberta. The two skiers were Keith Kingsbury and Butch MacIntosh. A highlight of the winters activities was the opening of the Dal Ski Lodge at Mt. Martock. This lodge was made available to all students and staff of the University.

THE TOWERING TEAM

Great height and earned ability. Lack of strength on the bench was their only fault.

A good season. Only four losses with eight wins. We will remember the packed gym and the long waiting list for seats. The team gave us many thrilling moments to remember and be proud of. With the same team back next year, we optimistically look to the future.

The highlight of this years season was the Tigers victory in the Bluenose Classic. Hughes, Beattie, and Durnford were named to the all-star team, the first time three have been chosen from one team. George Hughes set single and total game tournament scoring records during the Classic. The nucleus of the Tabbies represented Nova Scotia in the Winter Games where they won the bronze medal and were the only team to defeat the eventual winners from Ontario.

Tremendously spirited team — always fought back. Led by a dedicated coach who won our respect with a small and mainly rookie team.

MARITIME

INSERTS: Kirby, Murray.

The Dalhousie Tiger and Tigerbelle swimming teams had a very successful year culminating in a title clinch in the Maritime Intercollegiate Championships.

Six Tigers were chosen to represent the M.I.A.A. at the Nationals in Edmonton. Here they compiled sixty-nine points to finish seventh in the nation.

During the year Lee Kirby broke the existing M.I.A.A. 200 butterfly record by nine seconds, while Gord MacMichael broke the team record in the 200 and 400 yard Individual Medley.

The Tigerbelles, although small in number, made up for their lack of depth with excellent quality performances.

The Tigers tremendous desire and spirit really showed in the Championships where they gave their most to give Dal its only M.I.A.A. title this year.

"the american dream" by Albee dalhousie drama workshop

The Dalhousie Drama Workshop, under the direction of Dr. John Ripley, and with the assistance of Professor L. Lawrence and Professor Allan Andrews, presented several interesting evenings of drama in the studio theatre. One of the most interesting was this production of "The American Dream", by Albee. It is surprising what can be done in such a small room with little equipment by these people.

The cast, Linda Gillingwater and Chris Brookes, Hillary Kitz, Robin Endres, and Peter Morrison, provided a consistency of performance which made the audience glad they had come, and pleased that they had for once received something for nothing.

connolley shield - one act plays

On February 1st, 2nd, and 3rd, Neptune saw its first one-act play competition, with nine entries from the various universities in Halifax.

- Phi Delta Theta Fraternity — "The Mediator" by Brian Crocker — Best Production
 Saint Mary's University — "The War Zone" — All seven actors
 — Best Actor Award
- Mount Saint Vincent University — "The Maids" by Jean Gene, directed by Faith Ward
- Shireff Hall — "The Club Bedroom" directed by Doug French
 Arts Society — "Antigone" by Cocteau, directed by Terry DeWolf — Best Director
 Leslie Campbell as Antigone — Best Actress
- Education Society — "Noah's Flood", directed by Tom Dunphy.
- Nursing Society — "Afterwards",
 Alumni Society — "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife"
 Delta Gamma — "Passion, Poison and Petrefaction" — directed by Velma Smith

Much to our surprise, a large audience attended each night, and a great deal of experience was gained by everyone involved. Each group is to be congratulated for the effort and interest shown. We of the graduates can only hope that this effort will be continued, and next year a student-written play will win again.

D. G. D. S. AT NEPTUNE with a funny thing happened on the way to the forum.

As with The Lesson in September, Chris Brookes was the mind behind the moves and motives of the actors and actresses of the cast. Although this was his first "big" show, he did an admirable job, with the help of Brenda Large. Throughout the rehearsals, the show gradually improved, and by the time opening night came, the cast was ready. The audiences loved the show, which seemed somehow to get better each night.

By Saturday night, the show was really good, and Mr. Hobday came over from Confederation Centre, was so impressed by the comedy, and invited us to go back with him, and make a one-night stand on Saturday, Feb. 25.

On the drive over, some slept, some read, and some sang. Once there, the warm hospitality and full house made our show even better.

On the trip over, some slept, some sang, and some read. Despite the dirty weather and the eleven-hour trip on the bus, they all arrived ready to go to work. Thanks to the hospitality of the people of Charlottetown, the cast and crew were all billeted, and treated like royalty. On Saturday night, despite the storm, the house was full, and the show was better than ever.

One person deserves particular mention for his performance in Charlottetown — Hamilton McClymont, on one week's notice, took over the part of Hero from Roger McIntyre, who was unable to travel with us. His hard work seemed to lift the cast, and our show was again a success.

STUDIO THEATRE

After the term was over, and all students cramming for finals, the professors decided to present two plays, "The Dumbwaiter" by Harold Pinter, and "The Duel" by a student, Brian Crocker. Briefly, it could be fairly said that Professors Andrews, Lawrence, and Rodley provided the audience with an informal and entertaining evening of free theatre.

DR. JOHN RIPLEY

Dr. John Ripley first came to Dalhousie as a Lecturer in the Department of English for the academic year 1961-62. After a year in England to complete his Ph.D. at the University of Birmingham, he was brought back to Dalhousie as Assistant Professor of English. After his return to Dalhousie, Dr. Ripley energetically re-organized the Drama Programme. His first project was to establish the Dalhousie Drama Workshop, which in subsequent years produced three Shakespearean plays (two directed by John Ripley who also starred as Richard II in the third, directed by Lionel Lawrence). He has extended his interest and enthusiasm far beyond Dalhousie, working with zeal to foster the understanding of theatre in Halifax and indeed throughout the rest of Canada.

Next year (1967) he goes to the University of Saskatchewan as Visiting Associate Professor of Drama. Dalhousie owes him a great deal, and we wish him well.

The Student Union Building is finally a reality. On Thursday, May 18th, President Henry Hicks turned the sod for the building that Dalhousie students have been paying for since 1911.

INTRO

'67

More than 600 students and over 100 faculty members prepared for the two days of displays, which attracted 10,000 people.

To be a scholar does not mean that you have to devote all your time to study. You must have fun, too. There is a proverb that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy", but there ought to be another one that "all play and no work makes Jack a quick dropout." Intro Dal acquaints an interested public with both aspects of university life, and puts them in a workable prospective.

medicine

The professionals try to answer our questions, but often they are not easy. The only way for them to teach example and experiment is by example. As a result, we, the visitors, often end up being the guinea pigs, regardless of our age. However, most of us seem to rather enjoy being in an experiment, to learn where we came from, how we were born, and what can be done to keep us in good health. It's all very interesting, but positively overwhelming. After all, we'll all look the same in a hundred years, if our friend on the right is any indication.

this group ...

made all this

The old traditions and the new ways are here, and one is able to appreciate both, understanding that both are a part of our lives, and are necessary. The university helps us to understand this, and in Intro-Dal, seeks to help other people to understand by visual display.

A professional Fraternity based on the high ideal and standards of the medical profession, producing an atmosphere of brotherhood through common interest.

Phi Delta Theta

Phi Delta Theta Fraternity, now in its fortieth year at Dalhousie, has this year continued to encourage active participation in university activities. Some success has been achieved in so far as Phi Deltas now serve as President of the Pharmacy Society, President of D.A.A.C., Vice-President of D.A.A.C., President of the Graduating Class, Law Society Open House Chairman, Winter Carnival Chairman, and Co-Organizer for the National Centennial Conference of Canadian Law Students.

Under the thoughtful and able leadership of President Stanley Precious, Nova Scotia Alpha has witnessed a myriad of household improvements as well as increased enthusiasm on the part of our active brothers for both academic and social pursuits. Successful exchange parties were held with several other fraternities. Of course, credit for these successes must also go to the other frats, Phi Kappa Pi, Phi Chi, Pi Beta Phi, and Alpha Gamma Delta.

A highlight of the year's diverse activities was the entry of "The Mediator" in the Connolly Shield One-Act Play Competition. Brother Brian Crocker wrote and directed the play, with an all-Phi Delt cast. His efforts were successful, and the play was chosen as Best Production.

In Service to the community, the Phi Deltas hosted the Children from the school for the Deaf, first to the Ice Capades, and then back to House for food, fun, and games.

The Annual Fraternity Weekend was a great success, thanks to the careful chairmanship of Michael Ashton. The close of the Week-End's activities heralded the installment of Robbie MacKeigan as President, with a new executive. Combining their administration with the abilities and interest of our twenty-one new pledges of the year, Phi Delta Theta Fraternity anxiously awaits a new term of service and participation at Dalhousie.

The House is like my home, where people will listen to me, and not be too critical. My Soc professor calls the Brothers my "peer group", as if to explain their influence, but they are more than that. We each have our own families, but somehow are a member of this family of Brothers too. The part of our life spent here is short, but we will remember it for a very long time.

The Tau Iota Chapter had a good year, in all three spheres — cultural, social, and service. Culturally, a series of Sunday morning speakers braved our cooking, and spoke to us over brunch. Socially, the parties were better than ever. Most memorable was perhaps the Steak Stag at the Lord Nelson, or the Ball Weekend in March. In the realm of community service, we assisted in a "Cancer Drive", canvassing for the "Heart Fund", and had a lot of fun giving a party for the children from the Nova Scotia Home for Coloured Children.

It has been a year of progress, of fresh ideas implemented through vigorous action. Next year will be even better.

Zeta Psi

The Alpha Mu Chapter of Zeta Psi has been on campus since 1938, and the fraternity has been in existence since 1847, a period of 120 years. Despite all this tradition, the brothers decided that it was time to acquire new quarters, and so we moved into our new house on Seymour Street. This new house gives our 35 brothers space needed to enjoy themselves. And enjoy ourselves we did! The Heart Fund and other drives were well supported, but we will remember best the Fall Festival, Black and Gold Review, and our most excellent weekend.

AND

OTHERS WEAKEN.

THE FINAL HOURS

ARE AT HAND

And then came that most important day . . .

FRIDAY, MAY 12, 1967 — 6:00 P.M. M-HOUR

followed by a

WEEK OF FREEDOM,

with time for meditation and a few lasting moments with friends.

Like leaves of fall, we must also separate and make our way down
the stream of life.

our last words...

Blood, toil, tears, sweat . . . and joy: this story so familiar to those associated with the printing trade has been repeated again this year by the staff of the Pharos for 1967, and for their persevering work, the results of which you see in this volume, I am grateful and hope that all readers are as well.

PHAROS, 1967, has attempted to give a picture of another year in the life of a growing University: we have recorded the tangible impressions of University life; to attempt to record the tangible — the intellectual and spiritual history of an academic year — would be both presumptuous and impossible.

PHAROS is going through a period of change and this year's issue is partially experimental; changes, some pretty obvious and others rather obscure, have been introduced and more may be expected in an effort to make it a yearbook of campus events, a characteristic record of a particular year. Hence, among other things, wider coverage may be expected of campus events and undergraduate activities. The direction of these changes will ultimately be directed by the reaction of readers: they will get what they want, but they must make their preferences known.

In the giving of thanks there is always the danger of overlooking the worthy, so that I content myself with thanking the staff as a whole for their work; for the excellencies of the book they are responsible while I alone answer for the faults which have slipped into print.

Bob Russell,
Associate Ed.

Don Russell,
Editor in Chief.

The coverage of sports activities in PHAROS, 1967, presented the most radical changes in recent editions. The decision was made to disband the concentrated sports section and present athletics as a chronologically spaced aspect of campus life. The inclusion of team pictures was felt to be incongruous with the new presentation and was therefor, for the most part, dropped. The football team photo remained because of ones inability to distinguish faces on the field. The swimming team, which won our only Intercollegiate title this year, had a group photograph entered in the recognition of its achievement.

At Dalhousie, we are in the middle of what sometimes seems a perpetual rebuilding program. Our big problem is not quality of talent but is one of quantity of quality. With the good coaching that we now have it is certain that the coming years will hold a few surprises for opposition.

And then, one night while we were sleeping, or one day when we weren't looking, someone did something to our campus that struck us as being very strange. We stared, pointed, laughed, and swore: but the thing wouldn't budge. Fifty-six years later, the SUB is becoming a reality.

COMMERCE

It never ceases to amaze me how a person could spend his life in front of a calculator an instrument that never makes a noise, or gives any beauty. But then, where would we be without the economist? Perhaps, in this world run by money, the accountant's instrument is as important as the organist's.

ENGINEERING

K. Hartling, I. Kuchinsky, R. McGrail, F. Soper, B. Gould, B. Erving.

He manages to combine mathematical rigor, physical application, and asides in proportions suitable to all. He demonstrates the thorough and theoretically exhaustive solution to a problem and then describes the short cuts, since "time is Money"; "it will save me bucks." He has no use for the "something for nothing" guys, but will go to any extreme in helping the conscientious student "cross the cerebral Rubricon" to understanding. Even though Mr. Marginson's classes have a casual, sometimes locker-room atmosphere, he commands the respect of us all.

GRADUATE STUDIES

THE Dalhousie Gazette made the headlines by publishing "obscene" material. Angered alumni and those members of the community who thought they should be our conscience wrote letters of protest, but an important campus precedent was set: the right of an editor to publish, and accept responsibility for, whatever work he feels is worthy of appearance in his publication.

98 years old with young ideas

Yes, Eaton's is 98 years old with very young ideas . . . all the latest in what's new for now! Swinging mini skirts and sizzling colours are part of the fashion scene during Eaton's 98th year. Wing-a-ding styles and bright bold lively fashions. Wide awake ideas and lively excitement are all a part of the scene at engineers make dozens a day. Once in a while there's an easy one, like specifying dependable, durable Jenkins Valves.

DALHOUSIE'S CHALLENGE —

To be able to provide adequate facilities for the increasing number of young men and women seeking higher education.

—Dalhousie from the air

Dalhousie is expanding rapidly and in the 15 years up to the mid-70's will have spent $60,000,000, but it still urgently needs financial support. Invest in the future — perhaps your children's and their children's future. Send your contribution to the Dalhousie University Expansion Fund, Dalhousie University, Halifax, Nova Scotia.

The Maritimes Build with "Maritime" Cement

From soil-cement roads to graceful concrete shell roofs, precast concrete bridges to soaring concrete apartment buildings, from a functional institutional structure to elegant places of worship — wherever construction is news, the news is concrete.

The reasons are many. The unsurpassed versatility of concrete offers practically unlimited design freedom; long-lasting durability and assured economy; strength and low maintenance cost; in short, the story of construction progress is the story of concrete. And in the Maritimes, concrete is made with "Maritime" Cement!

When you're a pioneer starting your 150th year of activity you have plenty to remember. Especially when you've made financial history, like laying the cornerstone of this country's banking system—fifty years before Confederation. At this time we could be looking back on a long record of achievement. Instead, we're looking ahead—well ahead. Canada's First Bank may be an old-timer but it has the youngest outlook in banking.
