

THE SMOKE OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE

CORK TIP
OR PLAIN

The meet was at the Manor House. They moved off at noon and drew the home coverts: but it was not until nearly one o'clock that they found a strong dog-fox near Badger's Wood. He got clear away after a fine hunt of fifty-five minutes with a seven mile point. The afternoon was rather blank except for one old fox who went to ground in Parson's meadow, ten minutes after finding. The hunt is hacking homewards now, through the early autumn twilight, and the aroma of Wills' Gold Flake blends sweetly with the smell of wood smoke and wet leaves along that winding English lane.

LIFE'S ESSENTIAL

Sugar is human energy in its purest form—a single pound contains 1800 energy calories, and if these could be transmuted into mechanical energy, a pound of sugar could lift itself a thousand miles in the air—it could raise a one ton steel girder half a mile straight up—it could keep a 110 watt electric lamp burning continuously for almost twenty hours.

“PEGGING”

Your Income!

The professional man—doctor, lawyer, engineer, clergyman—has a different problem from that of his commercial brother. His chief assets are his ability and experience. These are revenue-producing only while he lives. They die with him or become inactive when he retires.

Life insurance gives him the privilege of perpetuating the revenue from his profession for any amount or period he chooses. He can prolong his income far beyond his productive years. He can “peg” a regular income for his own old age. Or he can definitely fix it for his dependents. And he can liquidate the cost of doing so during the income producing years when such payments entail little or no sacrifice.

A Sun Life representative will be glad to draw up a plan suited to your own individual requirements upon request

The Pilot Doesn't Worry

Fifty below in the Arctic night—and a plane down, with a defective spark plug and an empty tank.

The spark plug can be replaced, but that won't help without gasoline to turn the motor—and the nearest "town" is a few Eskimos and a trading post across the lake at Blackfish Point.

But the pilot doesn't worry. He knows there is a cache of Imperial Gasoline at Blackfish, and someone there to help him.

The great wealth of Canada's north is being found from the air many years before it could be reached afoot, because men are willing to adventure and supplies are there when they are needed.

These supplies come from the Imperial Oil Refineries. By ship up through Hudson Strait into the Bay, by rail beyond the Pas, by paddle wheeler down the Peace and MacKenzie Rivers they go to distributing points. In winter, dog teams and sleds drag them further into the wilderness.

For fifty years Imperial Oil has been meeting the new needs of transportation and industry. Because it has met each need with enterprise and energy, Imperial has become a great company—serving every corner of Canada—its ships on the Atlantic and Pacific—its pipe-lines in the tropics.

Fifty years of constant enterprise are in the products Imperial Oil sells to-day.

Imperial Three Star and Imperial Ethyl are its best gasolines.

Which means that nothing finer can be put in your car.
