THE DALHOUSIE REVIEW

Invites contributions in Prose or in Verse from both new and established writers. Manuscripts submitted should not exceed 5,000 words, verse contributions 300 words. Able discussions of literary, historical, educational, political, social and other problems as well as original and imaginative short story fiction will be considered. All manuscripts should be typewritten and should be accompanied by an addressed envelope and return postage in Canadian stamps or International Reply Coupons. Editorial correspondence should be addressed to the Editor, The Dalhousie Review, Dalhousie University, Halifax, Canada. Correspondence regarding Subscriptions, Advertising and Business matters generally should be addressed to the Business Manager, The Dalhousie Review, Dalhousie University, Halifax, Canada.

The contents of The Dalhousie Review are listed in The Canadian Index, Canadian Library Association, Ottawa. The Dalhousie Review is authorized as second class mail by the Post Office Department, Ottawa.

Progress means change

A good wheat gives place to a better;
a new machine does a job faster, at less cost.
It's the same with banking. Through the years the Royal Bank has developed more efficient methods, found wider fields of usefulness to its customers. Today many of our services to business go far beyond the realm of routine banking. Perhaps some of these special services may be useful to you in your business.
