

JOSHUA RAPP LEARN

Desire

I want grand things out of life
Sex isn't enough, I want romance
I want to die violently
I want to kiss for hours
I want touch reciprocated in escalation
I want the walls of my memory painted in visceral colour, illuminated in flashes by thermo-luminescent shards
My dreams only pale in comparison.